GATHERING

Prelude

"Allegro"

by Antonio Vivaldi (Tracie Klaehn, flute)

Welcome

Statement of Welcome

One: Today, we remember our relationship with First People which has not always been healing and empowering. With gratitude and respect, we recognize the tribes on whose traditional land we make our spiritual home, the Anishnawbe (A-nish-NA-bay) the Haudenosaunee (Ho-di-no-SHOW-nay), and the Neutral. We acknowledge with regret, that this history has not always been respectful. We commit to just relationship in the present.

All: Seeking true community, we welcome all who have no church home, need strength, and are seeking deep meaning. Welcome to those who have doubts or who do not believe. Welcome to those whose faith is sure, and to those who believe, but who are asking large questions.

One: Welcome to visitors and to familiar friends. Welcome to grandparents, to mothers, fathers, youth and children, couples, and single people.

All: Welcome to people of all colours, gender identities, abilities, and sexual orientations.

One: Welcome to each who is searching for meaning, who is seeking an understanding of community and what it means to accompany one another.

All: As we come together as church, we turn to one another with gratitude and pray that we will be strong together, faithful together, and loving together. We seek blessing as we welcome the great gift of spirit in us, through us, and among us.

Joys and Concerns

Call into Community

One: It's good that we're here, We are needed, all of us;

All: our gifts, our weaknesses, our courage, our cowardice, our faith and our fear.

One: We are indispensable parts of the body. Together we are the body of Christ;

All: God in the flesh, in this time, in this place.

One: Here we gather to worship, not a hero, not a teaching, not a doctrine, but the Spirit; All: the living God, made real by our gathering.

One: This is the time, this is the place,

All: To stop, to listen, to simply be in the Holy presence,

One: To hear our names being called;

All: Come follow me, I will lead you home.

One: Let us worship the God who knows us by name.

★ Introit: "Come Touch Our Hearts"

Passing of the Peace

One: God is the source of peace within us.

All: In humility and surrender let us claim it.

One: Jesus is the way of peace among us.

All: With courage and faith let us live it.

One: The Holy Spirit is the unity of peace between us.

All: With generousity and joy let us share it.

One: May the peace of Jesus, the Christ be with you...

All: And also with you.

EXPLORING

Prayer of Preparation

Holy One, send us your Spirit, that through the reading of your Word, through our listening and speaking, our wondering and discerning, we might hear you speak a new word to us—your people in this place.

Amen.

Story Time

Following the story time, children and youth will leave for Sunday Morning Activities. Happy Learning!

For babies and toddlers, there is the Family Worship Space at the back of the sanctuary. Each week, there will be an adult present so that the children can play and be cared for while parents worship. Parents are free to come and go from that space, according to the needs of their children.

Scripture -

Selected verses from the book of Jonah (The Message-The Bible in Contemporary English)

Jonah— Written after the Jewish people returned from their exile in Babylon, probably in the fifth century B.C., this book is a teaching story with an important message about our understanding of God. It concerns a disobedient prophet who attempted to run away from his divine commission, was cast overboard and swallowed by a great fish, rescued in a marvelous manner, and sent on his way to Nineveh, the traditional enemy of Israel. To the surprise of Jonah, the wicked city listened to his message of doom and repented immediately. All, from king to lowliest subject, humbled themselves in sackcloth and ashes. Seeing their repentance, God did not carry out the punishment he had planned for them. Whereupon Jonah complained to God about the unexpected success of his mission; he was bitter because Yahweh, instead of destroying, had led the people to repentance and then spared them.

Jonah encompasses a number of theological emphases. God is in control of creation and uses that power to both teach and rescue Jonah. When a prophetic calls comes to a person (Jon1:1) it involves a commission which cannot be avoided. Moses and Jeremiah tried to escape the responsibility, but failed. God hears the pleas of Jonah even when he has been disobedient and rescues him. Foreigners can cry to God as did the sailors, and a foreign nation such as Ninevah can repent and avoid punishment. This is one of the rare stories that talks about an Israelite actually prophesying in a foreign country rather than from within Israel/Judah (Amos. Isaiah. Jeremiah). The universality of God is present in this book. God can choose to change an action which has already been decreed as in Amos 7, but here it is in relation to a foreign nation. Overall it is diminishing to try and set one purpose only for this book because it contains a number of theological issues and lends itself to many interpretations. This story has inspired many artists to depict it. Marc Chagall has done six sketches and numerous stained glass windows appear in large cathedrals across Europe, for example, Cologne Cathedral in Germany and in Gouda in the Netherlands (Limburg: 74).

Prayers of the People

The Lord's Prayer – Paraphrase+

God within us, God beyond us, God among us, May the Mystery always be named and known among all peoples and in all times. May creation give way to the rule of love and the power of life. Satisfy our hunger, and grant us a hunger to see the whole world fed. Restore us to right relationship with You, with creation, with others, with ourselves. Strengthen us to reject all that would lead us away from You, Come to us when we choose death over life. Give us courage to follow your call in this moment. For in your love we find the only power, the only home, the only honour we will ever need, in this life and the life to come. Amen.
